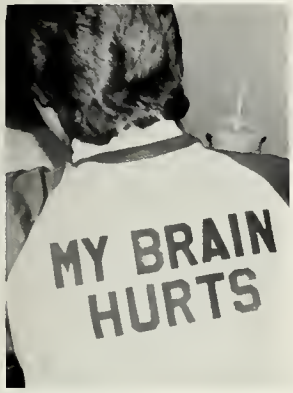
TROJAN Yearbook



SENIORS 20

Suffering from a critical case of senioritis, the class of 1983 bade farewell to FHS.

JUNIORS 62

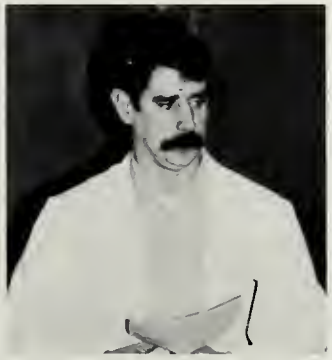
The faculty and staff of FHS survived another year of late homework, fake hall passes and sleepy students with continued good humor and patience.



SPORTS 94

Three state championships highlighted the year in sports.

ACTIVITIES 146

Beginning with Homecoming, and ending with a Hawaiian Dance, plays, concerts, and prom kept FHS students active.

CLUBS 190

A "league," a "club," or a "society," matched every student's needs and interests.

ADS 212

We salute the local businesses whose continued support helped finance the Trojan Yearbook.

When one glimpses through this yearbook, he is not only recapturing memories but feelings. Feelings that made this year somehow different from the rest. There was the confusion of those first few weeks, the frustration of homework and, finally, the relief of a welcomed weekend or that long awaited final day. Together, we've been through the laughing, the fighting, and yes, even the tears. And, we made it as a team. From the kazoo crowd at the football games to powder puffs to those last grueling weeks, FHS had the key ingredient, its students that made school more than a dirty word. We've learned things invaluable to our education like how to ditch hall monitors or how one sneaks a few morsels of food into the academic wing. But, more important, each of us has grown a little more with this passing year. A vital part of our school career that won't be forgotten.

In the years to come, the time spent at Findlay High School will be just a memory. But, for the moment, that memory is a vibrant full-color reality. It's the clammer of the crowds racing in the hall, the blue and gold tide rushing through our veins. And, we're not classmates but friends. Friends who join together to make the school year something more than tests, sweat and homework. We've even graduated together from Val-mania to M-TV fanaticism. From the senior elite to the underclassmen, there have been plenty of radical times . . . bonfires . . . pep rallies . . . partying on the weekends. And, it's those bonds of friendship that will leave lasting effects on us.

Toot Toot Tootsie ...and MTV

Gandi dominated the 55th Academy Awards with eight Oscars, including best picture and the best actor award to newcomer Ben Kingsley. E.T. the Extra-Terrestrial, the movie about a lovable creature from outer space that has become all-time box office champion, finished with four Oscars. The movie created a nationwide "E.T." epidemic with everything from E.T. stuffed animals to E.T. shirts being sold. Meryl Streep was named best actress for her role as the tragic Polish survivor of a concentration camp in Sophie's Choice. Best supporting actress and actor went to Jessica Lange for her role as a vulnerable soap opera star in Tootsie and Louis Gossett Jr. for his role as a tough but fair drill sergeant in An Officer and a Gentlemen.

Findlay students again were able to keep pace with the music trends of the nation thanks to the addition of MTV to local cable programming and to concerts in Toledo and Bowling Green. Groups as diverse as the Stray Cats to Judas Priest to Dianna Ross appeared in the Toledo area during the 1982-83 school year. Popularity of the concerts was always evidenced by the large number of students sporting official concert t-shirts at school the day following the shows.

With MTV, Findlay students had the opportunity to keep pace with the latest trends in rock and roll. Video music brought attention to new groups like the Stray Cats and Men at Work while highlighting previous favorites like Def Leppard and Hall and Oates.

Some of the top albums during the school year were Thriller, Michael Jackson; Business as Usual, Men at Work; Rio, Duran, Duran; Frontiers, Journey; Kilroy was Here, Styx; Built for Speed, Stray Cats; Signals, Rush; American Fool, John Cougar; Night and Day, Joe Jackson; Pyromania, Def Leppard; and H_20, Hall and Oates.

and the tube...and the Flicks

M*ASH ended its twelve year television tenure February 28, with a final movie-length episode. The show had compiled 14 Emmy awards including two in the 1982 award ceremonies. Alan Alda received best comedy actor and Loretta Swit was named best supporting comedy actress.

Meanwhile, CBS retained its number one network ranking with Emmy award winning shows like Hill Street Blues which captured the award for best drama series. Daniel J. Travanti also was honored as best dramatic actor and Michael Conrad was named best supporting dramatic actor; both men were from the Hill Street program.

In other Emmy awards, Carol Lane was named best comedy actress and Christopher Lane best supporting actor for their roles in the Taxi series.

Expanded cable programming offered viewers a variety of non-network options with the ESPN sports channel, the MTV music channel, HBO and Cinemax among the most popular.

Lets Hear it For... Yea Herschel & Tylenol

While everything else may stop or cease to exist, one thing that goes on endlessly is sports. In football, the Washington Redskins captured the Superbowl title while the Penn State Nittany Lions were named the #1 college football team. Pro football had an interesting twist during the 1982-83 school year. The National Football League's players went on strike starting September 21. The strike lasted 57 days causing a shortened round-robin format season. The newly emerging United States Football League took advantage of the N.F.L. strike and began its 16-game season March 7. Herschel Walker, the nation's top college football player, bypassed his senior year at Georgia and signed with the New Jersey Generals of the U.S.F.L. In other college football action, Ohio State defeated Michigan 24-14 in the annual rivalry to capture a Big-Ten co-championship for the Buckeyes. College football suffered a tragic loss when legendary Alabama football coach Paul "Bear" Bryant died of a heart attack on January 26.

In baseball, the St. Louis Cardinals surprised the Milwaukee Brewers 4-2 to take the World Series. Meanwhile, the National League continued its dominance of the American League as it won the All-Star game for the tenth year in a row. In college baseball, the Texas Longhorns won the College World Series.

Moses Malone and the Philadelphia 76'ers reversed roles from the previous year's series as they stole the N.B.A. championship from the Los Angeles Lakers in four straight games. In NCAA basketball, North Carolina State and USC won the men's and women's national championships respectively.

Meanwhile, Jimmy Connors and Martina Navratilova, the world's #1 ranked men's and women's tennis players, managed to win the Wimbledon singles championships. The United States, led by John McEnroe, won the Davis Cup. The game of tennis suffered a great loss when Bjorn Borg, one of the greatest players of all time, announced his retirement January 23.

Tom Watson, and Janet Alex were victors in the U.S. Men's and Women's Open golf tournaments, respectively. While Tom Watson was the year's #1 male golfer, Jan Stephenson was the #1 female.

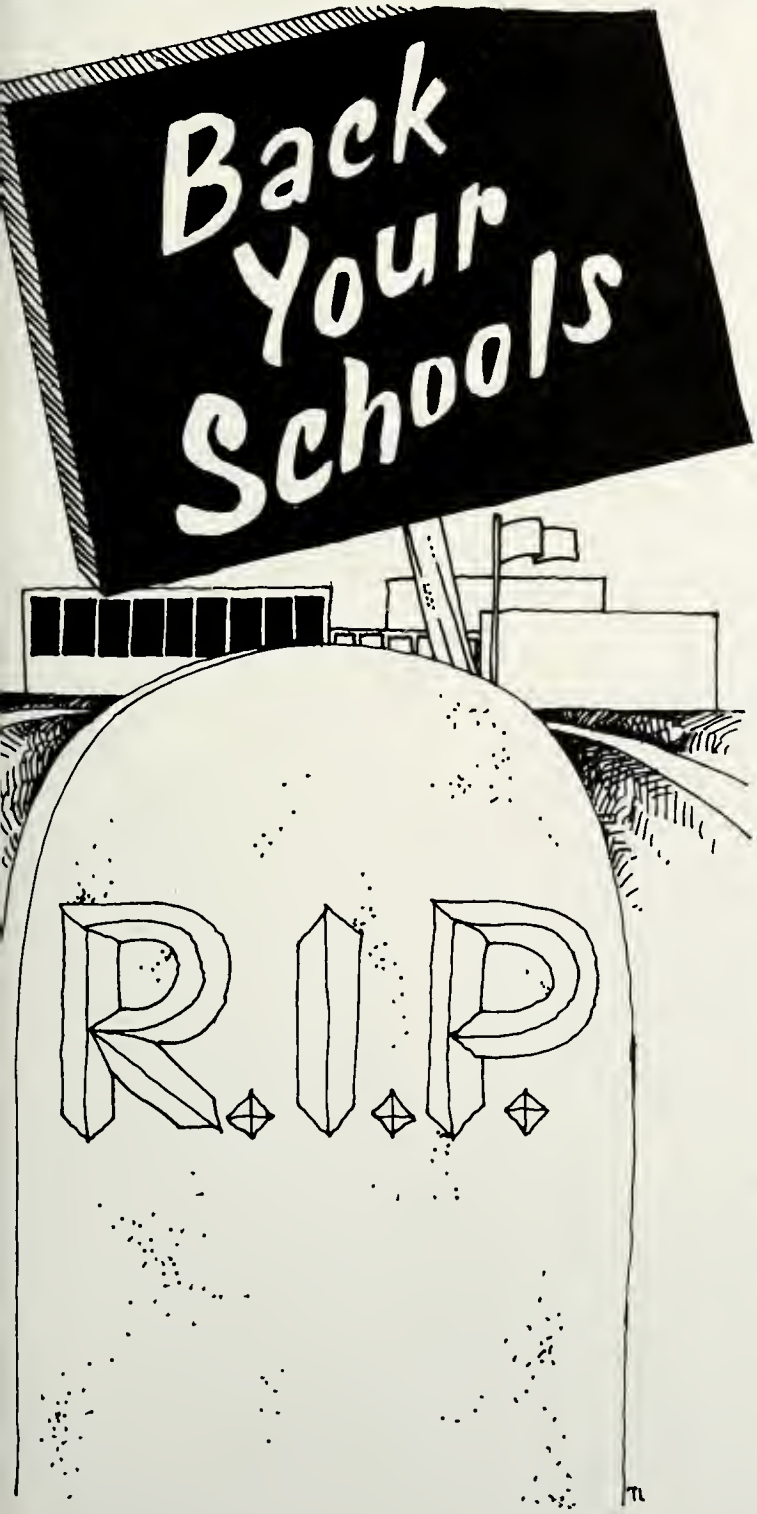
Larry Holmes remained the undefeated heavyweight boxing champion with several title defenses against top contenders. In other boxing news, Sugar Ray Leonard, the world welterweight champion, announced his retirement from boxing.

Yes BARNEY & grim reaper



Many important things went on in the world during our 1982-83 school year. America ventured with Barney B. Clark through his ordeals as he became the first human to have an artificial heart implant, and then we mourned the pioneer's death, March 23, 112 days after the polyurethane heart was placed in his body.

America continued to endure through a recession that had been felt for the past ten years. In addition, President Reagan announced a $99 billion tax increase and a 14.2 percent increase in defense spending.

U.S. relations with the Soviet Union were seriously hampered when Soviet President Leonid Brezhnev died and was replaced by Vladimir Andropov on November 10.

The spotlight shifted on June 21 to England's Royal family when the son of Princess Diana and Prince Charles was born and named Prince William of Wales. During the summer of 1982, the world's attention was centered on the World's fair in Knoxville, Tennessee, which drew to a close on October 31.

America's mood quickly changed on October 6 when seven people in suburban Chicago died of cyanide poisoning that was laced in Extra-Strength Tylenol capsules. The deaths of former heavyweight champ Jack Dempsey, actor Henry Fonda, actress Ingrid Bergman, and Princess Grace of Monaco furthered dampened American spirits.

Another Findlay tax levy met its doom in the fall of the 1982-83 school year. A massive campaign titled "Back Your Schools" was undertaken throughout the area. Its intent was to raise badly needed funds for the Findlay City School System. Nevertheless, the tax levy failed by a somewhat decisive margin.

In other local news, the Findlay Meijer's Square store located across from the shopping center burned down June 7. In the fire, one person died and several others were seriously injured. Although the Meijer's Square building was totalled, the next door Great Scot was protected by an outside fire wall. Nearly a year later, however, Meijer's Square announced plans to rebuild and relocate another Meijer's Square elsewhere in Findlay.

Fine Arts Week

Fine Arts Week was celebrated from May 2 through May 7 with a variety of activities. Programs featuring the orchestra and wind ensemble catered to the musical tastes of the students. The talented dancers of Pizazz entertained at assemblies. Dramatic arts were represented by the Madrigal singers as well as the always popular one act plays. Throughout the week, students and visitors alike enjoyed the displays of sketches, paintings and sculptures created by students. The single activity enjoyed the most was the Potters Olympics held Thursday. Students from Ohio Northern University, Findlay College and Lima Shawnee High School joined with Findlay Senior High School potters in many competitive events.

Scenes from the Potters Olympics: moving clockwise across both pages, after a trying competition, Chris Durbin cleans up; Sharon Brink applies her technique in the no-hands contest; Mr. Bruce Patterson concentrates on his creative effort for the day; Blindfolded, Rosario Ibarra displays her talent in another phase of the Olympics; and another feature of the no-hands competition is shown in this original presentation.

During the school year, Findlay High School students had the opportunity to attend various assemblies. In the middle left photo, David Toma speaks to the entire student body on the dangers of drug abuse. His speech had a great impact on many students and several talked with him after the assembly as shown in the top picture. Moving clockwise, State Representative John Stozich talks to students in the library. Below, Mike Dillon and Troy Litten take part in a demonstration during a Columbia Gas Company presentation.

When not attending assemblies, students took part in many school and community services. These benefitted senior citizens, surrounding neighbors, and many others.

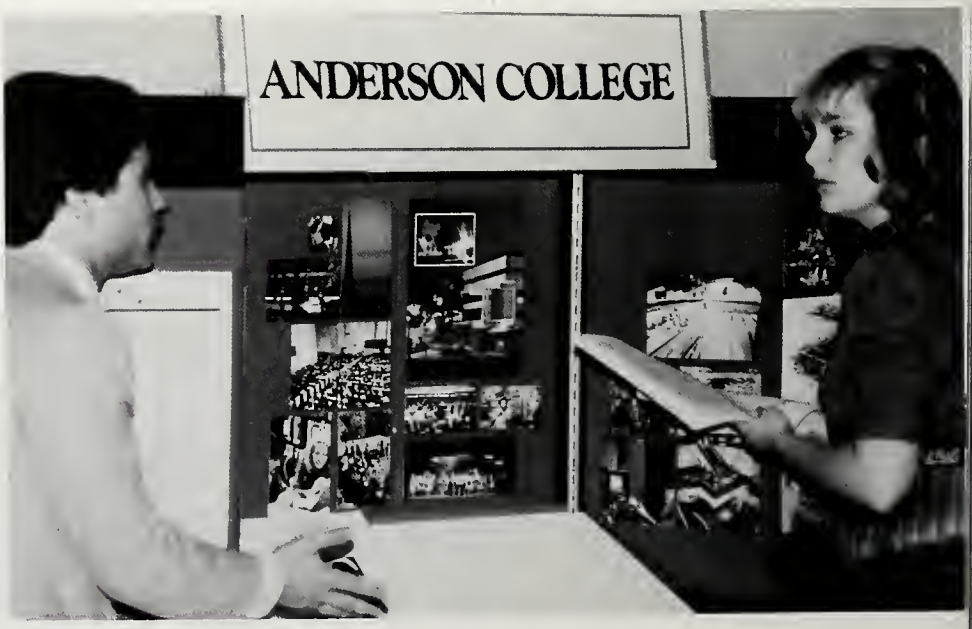
IN THE upper left photo, Tom Chaffin, Mr. James Haley and Jerry Hart install a trash can, a project carried out by the senior class council in cooperation with the welding class in an effort to control the litter problem around the school. Below, Steve Montooth puts a newly installed can to good use.

A COLLEGE CAREER Day is held each year to help students make post-graduate plans. On October 26, booths were set up in the gym by colleges and universities, technical and trade schools and military services, to provide information about their programs.



Above, and moving clockwise, listening intently, senior Kathleen Cassidy tries to decide which college best suits her needs. Junior Brad Waldron considers the programs offered by Marietta College. Just beginning her college search, junior Laura Short, realizes deciding on a school is a long and complicated process. And senior Marianne Weber evaluates the courses of study offered by Anderson College.

Remember when we were in Kindergarten and staying inside the lines when coloring was our greatest challenge?

As we mature, we realize that each year we encounter new problems, and each year we are coloring a new picture, striving harder to stay in the lines.

Along the way, however, we are fortunate enough to have parents, teachers and friends guiding our hands. They help us complete our picture and move on to bigger things, whether that be college or preparing for a biology test, like sophomore Anita Kumar, who hopes to add color to her picture.

What is a high school? It's not the building, it's the people. These people aren't just students, they are friends. Aside from the classrooms and books, the main objective of all friends is to enjoy each other's company, laugh and have a good time. It can be as simple as exchanging hellos when passing in the hall or as noisy as playing kazoos and cheering at a football game. But perhaps one of the best times of all is when the entire student body gets together for pep assemblies to cheer and work toward the same goal. This is the case in the picture to the right where Dennis Livingston portrays the "real cool dude," Mr. Bill Baron, generating spirit prior to the Homecoming football game.

STUDENTS ARE involved in many aspects of high school life other than academics which include activities as diverse as Computer Club to Drama Club. Most of the time spent at school, however, is spent with friends. To the left and moving clockwise, juniors Andy Pugh and Chris Johnson relax and enjoy goodies during a class party the day before Christmas vacation when most school work is forgotten. During their lunch, Sonja Bame and David Haas spend a little time together on a warm fall day before returning to classes. In direct contrast, Kathie Reigle and Jim Ross enjoy each other's company while hiding from the photographer during a cafeteria study hall.

Bring on the Future!

Seniors had a great time in this, their last year at FHS. Spirits were up, with everyone looking toward the future, to see if there is life after FHS! Although their plans after high school may differ, everyone was geared and ready for graduation!

Pictured at the immediate right are Kelly Meyers and Jodi Robinson. The girls found time in the middle of their busy day to get out in the courtyard and take advantage of the warm day (and maybe even improve their tans). All the FHS students greatly enjoy the open courtyard, especially during their lunch periods on warm spring days, where it has been the sight of some pretty mean frisbee games!

Overall, it was a good year with good times for FHS seniors. Our memories made here will last forever.

Say Farewell to the Past!

They entered the building cautiously and when they spoke t was in hushed whispers. Their laughs resembled that of ıyenas, their clothes were pulled from a Macy's mannequin.

Of course, we're referring to sophomores. Those short, gigıling wonders who are the butts of so many jokes around school. Jokes that were once directed at you. Yes, you! You were a sophomore once.

Oh, what a long time ago that was! Can you even remember back then? Back to the days of geometry and Ernest Tubb, bowling class and seventh period lunch (in the cafeteria, no less)! Those days we can laugh at now, but back then? Well . . .

Then, you became a junior. You had finally escaped the sophomore jokes and begun to establish yourself as a real person. Colleges were sending you brochures, while counselors bugged you to take ACT's. Planning the prom and homecoming were your responsibilities; ones not to be taken lightly. But this too, you managed to survive until you finally reached . . .

Your senior year! That blessed, glorious year when you ruled the school. It was time for caps and gowns, your last homecoming and prom. Every senior's theme song became "I Don't Care Anymore" (our grade cards were proof of that), while good times reigned.

Seniors are a very special group of people though, more so than many realize. We laughed about our antics but only we knew how necessary they were. For underneath the laughter there laid a nervous expectancy, as we all waited for that final day.

Sound melodramatic? It's not really. Actually, it's just human nature. Why shouldn't you be nervous about your graduation day, knowing that you'll be leaving teachers and friends who you may very well never see again?

So, it's a good thing you made the best of your senior year. Because after high school, college, work, and the world will all be at your fingertips.

Academic Top Ten "Why Get Good Grades?"

1. Martha Mahler

2. Greg Cammell

"I have always felt that all the world can ask of a person is her best. There is never any shame in a job as long as you may, looking back, know that you have done your best." — Martha Mahler

"I think that a person should put his best effort behind everything he tries, and if I don't try my hardest I'm not satisfied with myself, whether it's academics or sports or anything else. One doesn't find true success in winning a race. A person only succeeds if he runs to the best of his ability." — Greg Cammell

"I believe a school, especially Findlay High School, has everything it needs in terms of academic and extra-curricular activities to provide each student with a beneficial education. I strive to "get the grades" in order to let myself know I am doing the best I can. The A's mean I'm getting everything out of what my courses are offering me and in the best way." — Mark Clemans

"Why not?" — Beth Fulkerson

"To me, 'getting the grades' is not as important as knowing that I've done the best that I can; if I know that, I'll never be disappointed in myself, and that's more important to me than all the good grades in the world. When I look back on my life, I want to feel that I've made a difference, that I've somehow made use of the wisdom of James Baldwin: "The world is before you, and you need not take it or leave it as it was when you came in." — Darlene Lebens

7. Angie Fenton

8. Mike Thomas

"The reason I go for the grades is obvious. I do it because I like the competition, I like proving I'm better than others. It may be conceited, but everybody does it for their own ego. Everybody wants to prove they are superior, even if they aren't. (Just thought someone should tell the truth.)" — Phil Rooney

"I try and get good grades because I don't see the point of doing anything half-way." — Angie Fenton

"My interest in school stems from a desire to please. It is very gratifying for me to achieve well in my classes. It was something that I was sure that I could do. Thus, I put most of my effort into my homework and found it rewarding. My parents encouraged me, but never demanded good grades, however, they were very pleased with my grades. I guess I really try for good grades because it's one thing that's always been easy for me." — Mike Thomas

"On the tennis court, I knew it took 110 percent in practice in order for me to do my best during the matches. This same attitude applied to my studies. I was never satisfied with my test results unless I had studied enough to give it my best shot. Even if I lost the match or didn't do well on a test, as long as I knew I did my best, I was satisfied. It's a good feeling knowing that I gave it my all, win or lose, pass or fail, in my mind, I succeeded." — Julie Adams

"The way I look at it is — If I have to do something six hours a day for twelve years of my life, I might as well do it right. Getting good grades gives me a feeling of accomplishment." — Keely Kane

Graduation. That long awaited event passed as quickly for seniors, as the time it took for the firecracker smoke to clear. After a flurry of speeches, songs, and diplomas, the day was over.

Five class members spoke on the theme, "Act, that each tomorrow find you farther than today." They were Becky Ann Holtzscher, Susan Gordon, April Treece, William N.G. Geaman, Jr., and class president Shelly Miller. Class valedictorian was Martha Mahler and salutatorian was Gregory Cammell.

It was a day of mixed emotions at Donnell Stadium, however, as students bade farewell to teachers and friends. FHS was not only a place to learn for these seniors, but a place to grow, so that as young adults, they would have the maturity and fortitude to take on all the challenges offered by life. Now, seniors find themselves on the brink of that tomorrow they acted upon today.

"... with you as the writer, director; and most of all, you will have the lead." — Susan Gordon

"... go for it!" — Shelly Miller

"When life gave him lemons, he made lemonade." — Bill Geaman

"Next, I would like to introduce William Geaman, daughter of Bill and Ginny Geaman." — Dr. C.W. Manuel

"We will always have the memories." — April Treece

"But ... if I had given up ... where would I be today?" — Becky Holtzscher

This year's juniors had many activities to keep them busy. First on the list was Homecoming. Junior class council members not only helped with the dance, but also decorated the windows of Macy's department store and the biology hall. Aside from all this, they still managed to win the float contest through the help of artists like Troy Litten. The juniors also participated in winter sports week by decorating a hall in Smurf mottif. With this the juniors once again captured first place.

Most of the juniors time, however, was devoted to raising money for the junior-senior prom. The biggest money-raiser was the selling of sausage and cheese, an activity a good part of the school participated in.

With each new school year there comes a new group of people classified as sophomores. Sophomores are the ones who spend the first semester trying to find their classrooms, learning their locker combinations, and discovering the ways of Findlay High.

Then, by the end of first semester, when they are finally getting the hang of it, they realize the year is half over. At the end of the school year these sophomores magically become juniors and the sophomore life cycle is ready to start all over again with a new collection of people the next fall.

Some of the activities in which the 1983 sophomore class was involved included cleaning the football stadium on Saturdays, assisting parents on open house night and participating in homecoming activities.

Administration

When one opens the office doors of FHS, he is entering a world that is the heart of Findlay High School. This is where all the hard work that keeps the school running smoothly and effectively begins. And, that's a nonstop activity. Who are the people at work behind these doors? They are no other than our administrators. Dealing with all the problems and pressures of their jobs, they confront problems that would seem to drive a sane person crazy. Our administration, given to an occasional visit by some lucky student or a seemingly unsolvable problem, is the life blood of our school. It may be rough at times and the problems may appear endless, but, our administrators keep prodding because the rewards are worth the headaches.

Faculty

What can be said about the faculty that some student hasn't already said? We can say they're all right. No, they're more than all right because nobody does it better than FHS teachers. They are, to coin a popular phrase, "absolutely awesome." Sure, the kids may cry "Homework, homework, give us a break!" But, the teachers stand up to the pressures of it all. It's part of the job, just like going through senioritis with each passing class.

Yet, the faculty makes its spirit known with the time and energies put toward extra curricular activities and coaching. Teachers and students alike work and make sacrifices for FHS. And it's that spirit that puts us on top. Just a job? Maybe. Then again, it's more than just teaching. It's learning and laughing with the students. Here at FHS, the good times outweigh the bad, and that's what makes the difference.

Staff

Here at FHS, there are three groups that form the backbone of the force which keeps our school functioning. Each day they work in close contact with both faculty and students. They are the secretaries, cafeteria workers and custodians. These are the few often familiar but unknown faces that work behind the scenes to keep the front lines running smoothly. And, not one day goes by that their work isn't important to the school. We may forget and fail to thank them, but their efforts are appreciated by all because it's people like them that makes the system work.

Undefeated Linksters

The golf team had a spectacular season this year, compiling a record of 17-0 and participating in the state championships. However, at the state tournament the team came out with a sixth place finish. Seniors Charlie Pfaltzgraf and Jerry Dannemiller stated, "The state tourney was a great experience and a lot of fun but it was disappointing we could not finish better than sixth."

Golf

With a spectacular mark of 17-0, the golf team brought another fine season to FHS; consequently, the team gained a berth in the state championships where it finished in sixth place. Five players were able to go to state. These five were Bill Lundeen, Jim Wilkins, Eric Stacy, Jerry Dannemiller, and Charlie Pfaltzgraf.

The team's record gave it a ninth consecutive Buckeye Conference championship. The Norris Drake Award was presented to Dannemiller and Pfaltzgraf and the most valuable player award went to Lundeen who had an average of 75.4 which was the lowest on the team. The 110% award went to Wilkins for his dedication to the game, and Mike Quinlan was presented with the most improved golfer award.

Talented Juniors

The cross country team had many talented runners. Two juniors had exceptionally fine seasons. Jeff Smith was a top performer as was Keith Olson, who broke many records throughout the year. In the bottom photos, moving left to right, Smith shows the exhausting effort put forth by runners, and Olson illustrates his fast-paced style which brought him a berth in the state championships.

Cross Country

With a number of superior efforts from Keith Olson and Captain Mike Murphy, the cross country team ended the season with a record of 5-2 and a second place finish in the Buckeye Conference. The team had especially fine showings in dual meets where it went undefeated.

During the year, four records were set. A new school and junior class record was established by Olson with a time of 16:15; a senior class record was set by Murphy, and a sophomore class record was set by Todd Wachter.

Olson, who accumulated the most points on the team, was Findlay's best runner. He had an eighth place finish in the all-district AAA meet. Along with all this, Olson is rated as the seventh best runner in FHS history.

Tennis

The varsity girls tennis team had another successful season under Coach Jim Hayes. Led by senior Julie Adams, the Trojans won the Buckeye Conference championship and finished as runner-up in the Ohio Tennis Coaches Tournament. The girls finished with a 16-1 record and recorded nine shutouts throughout the season.

Adams had a spectacular season at first singles amassing a 24-4 win-loss record, making her three-year record 68-12 as a Trojan netter. She also reached state competition for the third year in a row, won the first singles conference championship for the third year in a row, and was voted the team's most valuable player for the third consecutive season. She was also captain of the team this season.

Moving clockwise from the top left, Trisha Bott, who was a sectional doubles winner, shows her strong forehand. Andrea Scharff, Bott's winning doubles partner, never gave up as she reaches for a ball that is barely in play. And Julie Adams, who led the team with hard work and leadership, gives a superb effort which helped her go to state.

Buckeye Champs

With a mark of 16-1, the girl's tennis team had an excellent season and won the Buckeye Conference championship. Moving left to right, two girls who helped the team to its great record were Rebecca Fariss, who shows her strong forehand, and Becky Slough, who leans into the ball to give it a little "english."

Volleyball

The varsity volleyball team rocketed its record to 15-4, a large step up from last year's 6-16 mark. Aside from this awesome record, the team was also recognized for becoming the 1982 Buckeye Conference champs with JoLynn Williamson and Cindy Yeager named to the first Buckeye Conference team. Cindy also received the most valuable player award, while JoLynn was named conference player of the year.

The four seniors and five juniors were hard workers and never lost a match on Trojan territory. Earning her first letter, Amy Schwepe was the most improved player and third year letterman Jodi Petry accepted the 110% award.

Coach Wohlgamuth, who was recognized as Buckeye Conference coach of the year, commented, "I think it was a terrific season for everyone involved and I hope next year's will be similar."

In the picture to the left, Jodi Petry, who was a third team all-Buckeye Conference selection, shows her concentration as she sets up a teammate for the spike. And in the picture to the right, JoLynn Williamson, who received the Buckeye Conference MVP Award and first team Buckeye honors, kneels to get to an oncoming ball.

League Leaders

The varsity volleyball team won the Buckeye Conference by posting a mark of 16-4. Many players were honored with awards including Coach Dick Wohlgamuth, who won the coach of the year award from the Buckeye Conference.

Moving clockwise, from the top left, the team's successful year gave them everything to cheer about as JoLynn Williamson and Jodi Petry illustrate in the photo. Julie Yingling gave the fans reason to cheer by blocking many of the opposing team's spikes. And Coach Wohlgamuth led everyone in cheering by shouting support to the FHS team.

Hard Workers

Even with a disappointing season, the junior varsity volleyball team stuck together by working hard and cheering each other on. The JV team was filled with talent and Diane Pollock was among team leaders in bumps and sets; in the photo to the right she exhibits her style. Sophomore Robin Renz, at the near right, stretches high for the ball.

Volleyball

After getting off to a slow start, the girls junior varsity volleyball team had another winning season, ending with a mark of 8-6.

Junior Sue Busch was named the team's most valuable player by Coach Dick Wohlgamuth. She led the team with 28 bumps and 106 sets. Junior Diane Pollock was close behind with 24 bumps and 96 sets. Andee Hickle beat out 24 spikes for the team lead with Jenny Delaney running a close second with 19. The 74 serves by Delaney was the tops in that department but again Hickle was up there with 60.

This young team had an excellent winning attitude and Coach Wohlgamuth is looking forward to having them in future years.

Underclassmen Star

The girls soccer team compiled a mark of 13-5 despite being plagued by injury throughout the year. This was an excellent mark considering the team was extremely young as it relied on eleven sophomores. Moving left to right, sophomore Beth Omelchuck, dribbling the ball down field, found herself playing in many of the girls games. Susan Wells also helped the team gain their impressive record. Here she is shown bringing the ball down field.

Starting at the upper left and moving counter clockwise, Joy Woolley, who was presented the 110 percent award, is shown working hard to get to the ball. Gina Strahm, who was a first team all Northwestern Ohio selection, displays her ball handling skills which also earned her the best offensive player award. Beke Brown blocks the ball and then prepares to kick it down field. And goalie Heidi Crook helps stop the opposing team from scoring.

Soccer

Despite being a young team and sustaining heavy injuries, the FHS Girls soccer team had its most successful season ever, compiling a 13-5-0 record. The team consisted of four seniors, five juniors, and 11 sophomores.

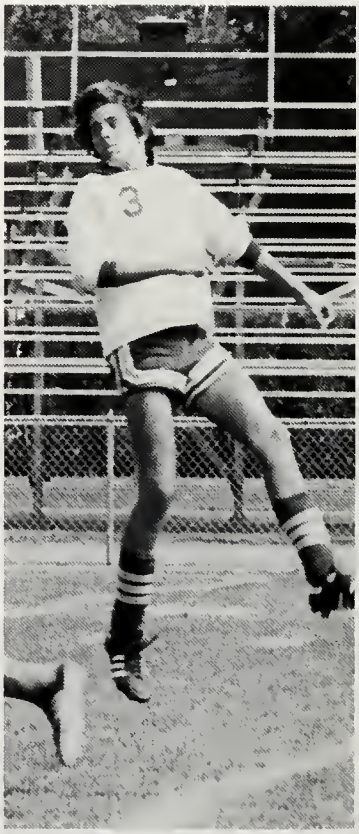
Major injuries came when goalie Heidi Crook separated her shoulder and Sandy Sleasman cracked her kneecap. Highlights of the season were beating Worthington for the first time in six years and winning the sectional championship in a shootout.

The team broke five school records while several individual honors were also garnered. Joy Woolley and Gina Strahm made the league first team while Crook, Sleasman and Cohan Dierkshiede made second team. Woolley also placed on the second team all state squad.

Soccer

Trojan soccer excellence continued in 1982 as the boys team captured the league championship for the fourth consecutive year. With a record of 19 wins and two losses, the Trojans carried one of the most talented teams that Coach Albert Laux has ever had. The team consisted of 13 seniors, four juniors, and three sophomores. Of the 20 players on the team, ten of them were returning lettermen.

The team recorded nine shutouts, scoring 96 goals overall while allowing only 20. An unlucky loss through penalty kicks against Toledo Whitmer in the sectional final ended the Trojan season. Nevertheless, Mark Clemans and Brian Wilhelm did receive all-state recognition. Seven Trojans were also recognized on all-league teams.



Starting at the top right corner and moving clockwise, tri-captain and all-state performer Mark Clemans hustles to get to the ball before his opponent. Another captain, Bill Geaman, who was placed on the first team all-league squad and also received the best all-round team sportsman and scholar awards, puts forth a little extra effort to head the ball. And the third captain, Brian Wilhelm, who received all-league second team honors, displays his form in clearing the ball down field.

And Coach Bill Baron, the offensive line coordinator, was always ready to answer a player's questions and is shown giving some advice.

Football

The 1982 Findlay High School football team had a very successful season. Many team and personal goals were accomplished. The Trojan record was 7-3 which included many exciting and challenging games. The team's losses were to the state's top ranked teams.

Findlay's tradition of pulling out the big games continued this season. The Blue and Gold won close games against Buckeye Conference foes Fremont and Elyria.

Records were set by two Findlay athletes: Bruce Porter, quarterback, and Pat Dillon, tailback. Porter had over 3,000 career yards passing and an outstanding high school career. He was also honored as a second team all-Ohio quarterback. Dillon set career and single season rushing marks for FHS. He was chosen to the first team all-Buckeye Conference.

Football

The 1982 season was disappointing for Findlay's junior varsity football team. After long, hard practices and Saturday morning games they ended the season with a 3-6 record in the Buckeye Conference. That was good enough to capture fourth place.

Sophomore John Breitigam led the team with six touchdowns and 624 yards rushing. Another sophomore, Tony Musone, led the team in receiving with nine successful catches resulting in 151 yards. He also scored one touchdown for the Trojans.

Something the statistics didn't show was the high spirits and enthusiasm of the Trojans. They never gave up. They kept fighting on those Saturday mornings to live up to the Trojan name.

Even though the season was disappointing they should be proud because they played well.

Swimming

The 1982-83 boys swim team ended the season with only two losses in 16 meets. A few members created quite a splash when they shaved their heads before state competition; it proved to be worthwhile as the team placed seventh in the championship meet.

The Trojans had many outstanding athletes, but a special recognition was given to Jim McGuire who set a new national 100 meter butterfly record.

Team awards went to John Marohn, most competitive swimmer; Chris Marlar, most improved swimmer, and McGuire, most valuable swimmer.

Although some strong seniors will be leaving, next year's captains, Andy Rutledge and John Marohn, feel, as does Coach Rock Snow, that many talented swimmers still remain.

"The fact that everyone was so supportive of each other had a lot to do with our success," commented Cate Witte, the most improved team swimmer. Andrea Cross was named most competitive swimmer and the most valuable swimmer was Colleen Sullivan who was also awarded an All-American honorable mention in the 50 freestyle.

Coach Rock Snow was very pleased with the team and looks forward to next year's season along with the 83-84 captains, Cross and Michele Arico.

Hockey

En route to an outstanding record of 25-2, the state champion hockey team compiled a long list of great moments. The Trojans won the B.G.S.U. Thanksgiving Tournament and the H.R.C. Holiday Tournament. The team finished second in the Northwest Hockey Conference but came through to win all games en route to the State Hockey Championship.

Goalie, and team MVP, Don Naugle had a superior year. He saved 618 shots out of 659, allowing only 41 goals in 27 games. Naugle permitted opposing teams only 1.51 goals per game and only 6.2 percent of all shots taken penetrated his goal.

Greg Olson led the team with 29 goals and had 18 assists to lead the team with 47 points.

Andy Trautman was the assist leader with 24 and his 17 goals gave him 41 points.

Jim Ross was presented the 110 percent award and Jack Kramer and Bill Hartman were given co-rookie of the year award honors.

Wrestling

The 1983 varsity wrestlers ended a tough season with a 4-7 record. Leading the team were captains Dave Roether and Eldemar Cabotage along with junior Elmann Cabotage. Three wrestlers had impressive showings at sectionals: Elmann Cabotage, second; Todd Slicker, third; and Roether, first. Three members of the team also placed in the Buckeye Conference: Elmann Cabotage, first; Eldemar Cabotage, first; and Roether, second.

During the season the team participated in two invitational tournaments, one at Perrysburg and one at Toledo Rogers. A total of 16 teams were at each meet. Findlay placed tenth and eleventh respectively at these meets.

The junior varsity squad compiled a 1-3 record. The team was led by Dave Moneer and Bill Mullen with records of 9-3 and 8-3 respectively.

Gymnastics

The 1982-83 gymnastic season was filled with a lot of hard work and a new person as coach. Health teacher Bill Baron took the coaching job even though he had never coached gymnastics before. Since this was his first year as coach, Baron relied deeply on his team to help one another. The team took this challenge and ended the year with a record of 7-7 in dual meets.

Keli Cornwell, who qualified for state and was co-captain, was presented the MVP award. The 110 percent award was given to Sharon Brink, and Monique Cosiano was the most improved gymnast.

Next season should be a good year with seven returning sophomores.

The girls varsity basketball team had another outstanding season with a mark of 17-4. The year was highlighted when two school scoring records were broken, a 93 point outburst in a game against Lorain Senior and a season average of 62.1 points per game.

Jodi Petry was named to the first all-Northwest Ohio district team and received the team MVP award. She led the squad in scoring with 16.1 points per game. Jo Lynn Williamson averaged seven rebounds per game to lead in that category. Susan Deeds was the proud receiver of three team awards, the 110 percent award, the most improved player award, and the award for the best free throw percentage. Cindy Yeager was named the best defensive player. Deeds shot a torrid 74 percent from the field for the team lead.

Four sophomores played some varsity and all the returning juniors hope to make next year's team a state contender.

Basketball

This was the first year for the girls junior varsity basketball team to be made up of all sophomores. The group may have been inexperienced as far as the number of years playing, but they stepped in and proved themselves worthy of playing high school basketball.

Gina Strahm led the team with 119 points and Lori Petry and Jenny Delaney each pulled down 91 rebounds.

The Trojans worked hard to be the best team they could. They were pleased with their record of 15-4 and their second place finish in the Buckeye Conference.

Basketball

The season was a disappointing one for boys varsity basketball. The team ended the season with a mark of 4-19. The 1982-83 Trojans were a young group with just four seniors on the team and Mark Fry the only returning starter. Despite the poor record, the team had an excellent attitude and played with intensity in every game.

The highlight of the year was the sectional tournament held at Ohio Northern University. The Trojans won the sectional championship by defeating Lima Shawnee and Buckeye Conference rival Marion Harding. The team then lost to Sandusky in district tourney play.

Coach Roger Renz is looking forward to next season because there will be seven returning lettermen, including four sophomores, who each started at one time during the season.

At the top and moving clockwise, the Trojan's leading scorer and co-captain, Mark Fry, looks for a teammate to pass to. He earned second team Buckeye Conference and Northwest district honorable mention honors. Jon Irish displays his shooting form from the outside. He was one of four promising sophomores who played varsity basketball this season. Junior Joe Plott, who was the second leading rebounder, jumps to tip the ball to a Trojan teammate. And senior Ryan Curlis hustles on defense. Curlis was one of four returning seniors who added experience to the young ball club.

Basketball

The 1982-83 junior varsity basketball season was a year of experience. A total of thirteen sophomores made up the reserve roster. At various times during the season, Rich Baerwaldt, Jon Irish, and Chris Weaver moved to the varsity squad. Not only did they move up, they all became starters at one time or another.

The loss of each created serious gaps in the junior varsity squad. Filling these gaps gave several other players valuable experience against many junior-dominated reserve squads. Although the record was a dismal 4-16, experience is the basic goal of a junior varsity team.

The games were close, the spirit was high and the future looks bright for Findlay basketball.

Starting in the upper left and moving clockwise, Chris Weaver, the J.V.'s main ball handler, pushes the ball down court for a fast break. Ted Ford demonstrates his shooting form. Chris DeGennaro displays his shot from the corner. Rich Baerwaldt, who played only part of the year on the J.V. team before joining the varsity, dribbles past an opponent towards the basket.

Double Duty

Several sophomores saw double-duty playing on both the varsity and junior varsity squads during the season. At the far left, co-captain Chris Weaver, the second leading scorer on the team, takes a jump shot from the corner. And Dale Parries, the team's top scorer, shows his follow-through on a free throw. Both Weaver and Parries saw varsity action during the season.

Most Losses

Although the 1983 Trojans compiled the most losses in FHS baseball history, team spirit and pride were evident throughout the season.

Starting at the top and moving counter-clockwise, John Wadding who received trophies for the highest percentage of bases safely reached and the highest batting average is at his position ready to make the play. Brent Niswander sprints for first base after sending the ball to center field. And sophomore Chad McClellan takes a strong cut at the ball.

Baseball

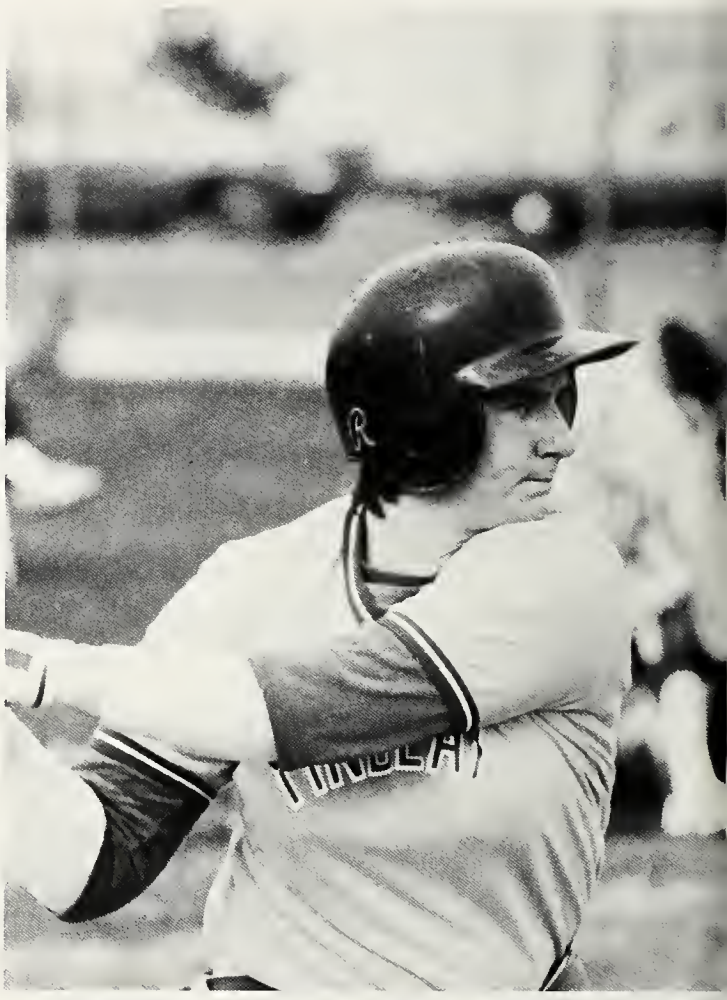
Although the 1983 Trojan baseball team ended its year with an 11-14 record, the squad was made up of many talented individuals who worked hard together. Senior Bruce Porter was the only member to receive a third year letter award; he also struck out 90 batters, fourth best in FHS history. Mike Lund, who went to bat 83 times, established the fifth best record for at bats. And, Buckeye Conference honorable mention awards went to seniors Brian Logsdon, Bruce Porter, John Wadding, and Brent Niswander, junior Brian Lasley, and sophomore Chad McClellan.

Softball

The 1983 softball team had a good season with a record of 9-6. All the starters were seniors and the majority of them batted over .300.

The rest of the team was also talented and junior Cindy Yeager proved this when she received the team batting trophy. Another top honor went to catcher Kathy Kelley who was recognized as the most valuable player. And, the 100 percent award was presented to senior Cindy Reza.

All the girls worked hard, especially in the Buckeye Conference where they finished with five wins; the team lost to Defiance in the sectional finals.



Starting at the top and moving clockwise, senior Lynn Baerwaldt eyes the ball, poised to put it out of the park. Sherry Thomas happily sprints toward home plate. Cindy Yeager shows how she mastered pitching, although she started the season with no previous experience. And Virginia Arredondo is ready for action as she watches the next pitch.

Solid Hitters

With most of the team's starting players batting over .300, the Trojans finished the season with a 5-1 record in the Buckeye Conference despite an inexperienced pitching staff. Pictured at the far left, Kathy Kelley, the team's most valuable player, provided guidance and support for the pitchers. State Champ

The 1983 tennis team found much leadership from their seniors with co-captain Chuck Merzbacher winning the state championship and co-captain Dale Wynkoop returning for his third year at FHS.

Moving right to left, Wynkoop, who compiled an excellent three year record of 64-11, shows his serving form. And Greg Olson, who had a mark of 19-4 this season, returns a forehand shot.

Tennis

The 1983 Trojan tennis team was the best in FHS history according to Coach Jim Hayes. In addition to every team member qualifying for district competition, Chuck Merzbacher dominated all opponents on the way to winning the state championship title, a first for Findlay.

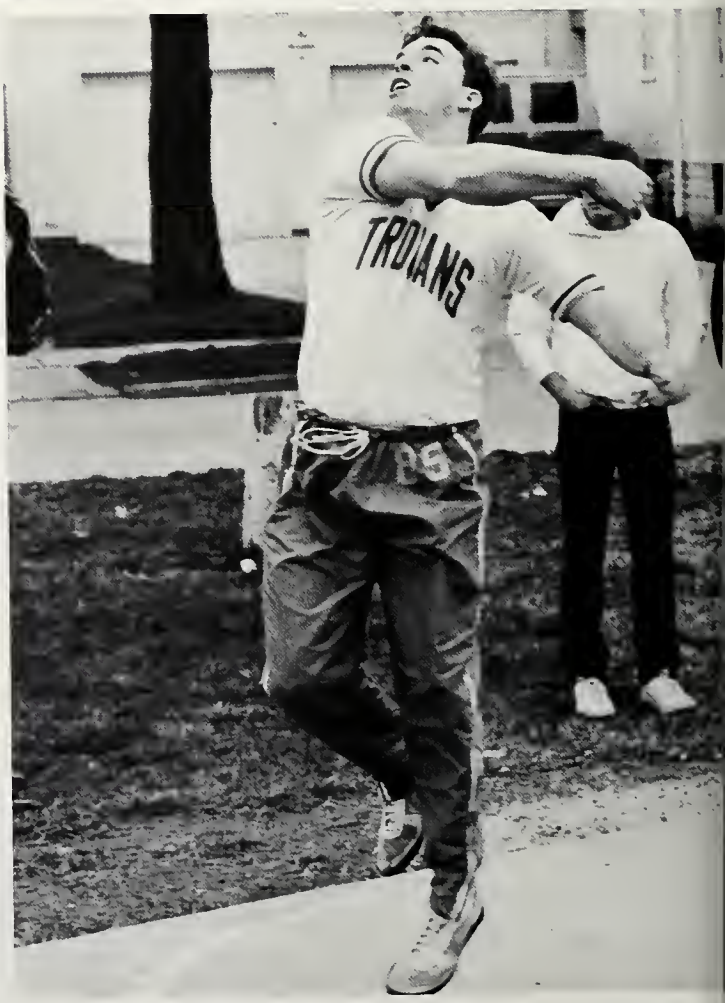
Merzbacher, who was named the team's most valuable player, ironically did not win an individual Buckeye Conference title, the only Findlay netter not to do so.

Track

With two team members qualifying and placing in the state track meet, the Trojan track squad had a "great season from a young, inexperienced team," according to Coach John Didich. Brothers Mike and Pat Dillon both qualified in the discus event for the state meet with Mike placing first (166-8) and Pat placing third (163-0, 2 feet, 4 inches). Pat owns the school record of 176-3. As a result of the Dillons' efforts, the Blue and Gold placed ninth overall in the state.

Other highlights during the season were fourth and fifth place finishes in the district and regional meets. High point awards went to Pat Dillon, field events; Jeff Marshall, sprints; and Jim Schutz, distance.

Starting at the upper left corner and moving clockwise, Chris Miller exhibits his form in the shot put; team captain Mike Murphy races to the finish line in the 3200 meter run; distance runner Jeff Smith keeps the pace in the 1600 meter run; and Pat Dillon, third place winner in the state track meet and first place winner in the district and regional meets, releases the discus.



Third in Buckeye

Records Set

The girls track team set many school records this season. The girls worked hard and improved tremendously. Moving left to right, JoLynn Williamson, who broke the 800 meter dash mark and, also, erased the record for the triple jump, is shown breaking the tape in one of her numerous first place finishes. And senior Rebecca Fariss, one of the three captains on the team, shows her running style.

Track

This year's team was probably the most competitive girls' track team ever at Findlay High School. The team improved from a 5-4 record last year to a 6-3 mark this season with Sherri Chevalier going to state in the shot put event.

Though many of the girls on the team had minimal experience in track and field, many school records were broken and the girls also demonstrated an excellent positive attitude. Several untimely injuries were instrumental in the losses to Whitmer and Toledo Start.

Seniors Dana Bond, Keli Cornwell, Rebecca Fariss, Richele Herr, Shelly Miller, Trisha Musser, and Susan Wells will be missed; however, Coach Williamson feels that with proper preparation next year's team will be able to exceed the fine accomplishments of this year's squad.

Cheerleaders

The 1982-83 cheerleaders were very enthusiastic and a great support to the Trojan teams. They kept spirits high by decorating individual lockers and locker rooms, baking cookies, and making cakes for the FHS teams.

During the summer the varsity and junior varsity cheerleaders went to Kenyon College for competition. The varsity received two first place and two second place awards. The J.V.'s also had an impressive showing, receiving one first and three second place awards.

Sports Helpers

The sports helpers of the 1983 year were a great group and terrific supporters of wrestling, track, swimming, soccer, and hockey. Throughout the seasons of each sport, they kept scores, statistics, times, and announced events.

They led cheers and helped keep spirits high for the athletes. The sports helpers, also, had many money making projects such as flower sales.

Damn Yankees

This year, the music and drama departments combined their efforts for the musical production of Damn Yankees. The show was about an avid baseball fan, Joe Boyd, who sells his soul to the Devil to become a baseball hero and help his team, the Washington Senators, win the pennant.

Auditions for the show were held on January 4, 5, and 6 with nearly 90 people attending. Soon after, the cast was selected and rehearsals began. While the cast was working in front of the curtain, much work also went on behind the curtain. The set crew, under the guidance of Mrs. Judi Griffin and carpentry teacher Mr. Ned Pahl, began building the set. With help from the carpentry and technical productions classes, a very realistic atmosphere was created. Other crews that helped were make-up, lights, publicity and tickets.

The operetta orchestra, directed by Mr. David Hanson, provided the music for the singers, directed by Mr. Fredric Willford, and the dancers. Mrs. Barb Hennigs did a terrific job choreographing the dancing scenes.

After many long hours of hard work, the musical was finally ready. On March 17-20, it was presented to and well received by nearly sell-out crowds. Damn Yankees was presented again on April 30 at the State Thespian Conference Findlay hosted.

Damn Yankees highlighted another outstanding season for the theatre department. Scenes from the production, pictured clockwise across both pages show Mrs. Barb Gebhardt, in one of her happier moments, directing a scene, Meg and Joe Boyd singing after being reunited, Lola trying to seduce Joe Hardy, Benny and his baseball players getting ready for a game, Lola and Applegate planning their strategy, Joe talking with his two biggest fans, Doris and Sister, and the mombo dancers performing in Joe's honor.

Winnie the Pooh

Winnie The Pooh and his friends had serious things to deal with. Lately Eeyore complained of having to stand out in a cold pasture because he didn't have a house, and there was talk of sending Christopher Robin off to education, a thought that troubled everyone. Fortunately Eeyore got a new house, but, much to his objection, Christopher Robin was forced to go off to education with promises to write and visit often. Starting at the right and moving clockwise, Christopher Robin, Pooh, and Piglet celebrate the completion of Eeyore's new home, Tigger's enthusiasm rubs off on Wise Owl, and Rabbit shares a bit of advice with Roo to Mother Kanga's disgust.

One Acts

One Acts, the final stage performance of the year, were presented during Fine Arts Week. Under the direction of students in the directing class, each one act displayed a number of different dramatic situations. On Thursday and Saturday nights the plays presented were: Same Time Next Year, Adam The Creator, and Impromptu. God's Favorite, The Rainmaker, Talley's Folly and The Woman Haters were performed on Friday night and Sunday afternoon.

Prom

The long awaited day of Friday, May 13, 1983, had finally arrived, and the Findlay Country Club set the scene for that magical night of tuxedos and gowns, the Junior-Senior Prom. This year's theme, chosen by the junior class council, was The Best is Yet to Come. The evening's activities included dancing, dining, and a chance for the couples to mingle.

Below, couples are seen taking an evening stroll across the swinging bridge in a reflection of the enchantment.

THE NIGHT started to heat up when the music, performed by the Slip Shindler Band, began. This gave the prom-goers a chance to get out on the floor and dance the night away. Pictured to the left, Steve LaBolt and Teresa Powell take advantage of the music to share a quiet moment. Above, Chris Patterson and Tim Manley, and their dates enjoy a slow dance amidst the rest of the crowd.

DANCING was only one of the many activities of prom night as many couples took the opportunity for intimate walks together or for mingling with the crowd.

PROM night is an evening of fanatic excitement and a welcomed moment when couples can take a breather from hectic school life. To the left, Kim Plesec and her date chat in the observatory. Below, Pat Dillon and Tina Howard complete a romantic walk across the bridge.

After the prom, post-prom gave couples a chance to take in a movie or to go bowling. The evening's activities came to an end at 3:00 a.m.

Band

While most students were out swimming last summer, the Findlay High School band members were busy learning new marching drills for the 1982 football games. The 167-member band, under the direction of Mr. Richard Kondik, performed at every home football game and one away game, at Zainesville. The band also marched in four parades, held a concert, hosted a marching band festival and was the featured band at Bluffton's band festival.

After marching season, the concert band took over. The concert band was divided into two separate units: the wind ensemble and the Golden Trojans. The wind ensemble, also directed by Kondik, received superior ratings at district and state band contests. They also were invited to play at the annual concert of the Ohio Music Education Association. The Golden Trojan band was directed by Mr. James Mitchell. The concert band had two concerts with each band performing.

The stage band was a special band of about 15 members who performed at proms and public and private gatherings.

IN ADDITION to performing at sports events, the band also participated in numerous parades along Findlay's downtown streets. To the right, Theresa Britton and Gayle Baltzell prepare for their trek across town.

THE PERCUSSION section of the band was bolstered with the acquisition of new equipment. In the photo on the opposite page, Bill King and Kris Langstaff keep the beat on their new snare drums.

Stellar Performers

After weeks of long practices, the majorettes and drill team's quality showed in their performances at football and basketball games. During the summer the majorettes took two national twirling championships. The Trojanettes worked hard to achieve a superior rating at the Painesville drill team camp. Both groups took seven out of seven events at a Mansfield competition and qualified for nationals in Los Angeles. Cathy Swisher also won the Miss Drill Team of Ohio pageant in Mansfield.

The groups competed at Zainesville and at state competitions and hosted their first annual Trojanette Classic. They were also guest performers for the Northwestern Airs Barbershop Chorus. Miss Kathy Siebenaler directed the girls.

Homecoming

Homecoming week is packed with a variety of activities as the student body prepares for the weekend's excitement. The week is highlighted by Saturday night's dance. This year the band Justice provided the entertainment for the dance and Tina Howard and Pat Dillon, pictured above, enjoyed the festivities. While the dance culminated the week, preparations for it, the homecoming parade and the hall decorations contest got everyone in the spirit. Janet Kidd paints a window in the upper right photo as part of the senior class hall decoration while classmates Bill Geaman, left, and Bryan Myers put the finishing touches on the senior class float.

Spirit Week

The parade down Main Street to Donnell Stadium along with the dance and the coronation of the new king and queen are the focal points of homecoming at FHS and highlight Spirit Week. Pictured below is the junior class entry in the parade's float contest. The float captured first place in the competition. Punk day is always one of the most popular dress-up days during the week. In the bottom left photo, Maria Michalitsch, left, and Sonja Stechschulte model their punk attire. Finally, members of the sophomore class receive their initial chance to show their school spirit as part of the FHS student body. At the left, sophomore Kim Reichert paints a window in the sophomore hall.

Mother Goose on the Loose

As homecoming week started, the theme "Mother Goose on the Loose" was unleashed. All over FHS, enthusiasm was shown by students engaging in activities showing their school spirit. The anticipation of homecoming night was heightened by spirit week which included hat day, punk day, college t-shirt day, and something new, "silence is golden" day. Excitement was the key, making the week a time to remember. This frenzied tone continued through the crowning of the 1982-83 homecoming king and queen, and the final seconds of the football game which Findlay arose triumphant. The dance was a time of celebration for newly crowned King Brent Niswander, and Queen Lori Tesnow and the victorious football team. After all the preparation, homecoming proved to be a success and a good time for all.

BOTH THE sophomore and junior-senior choirs were very active. Not only did they perform at three school concerts but they also sang at many places in the community under the direction of Mr. Fred Willford.

At both concerts there were choral numbers, solos, and featured music by the chamber choir.

A group of senior girls, called Silver Lining, were featured at most concerts. In addition, they performed at a benefit for Muscular Dystrophy at the Elks Club.

The junior-senior choir also did an excellent job singing in the spring musical, Damn Yankees.

THE ANNUAL Christmas concert is one of the most popular vocal music presentations of the school year. Scenes from the concert pictured here, include, starting at the upper right corner and moving clockwise across the pages, Susan Akin and Jim Dreisbach singing solos, Tristen Hennigs joining Lucius Stone at the piano to sing a duet, and the junior and senior choirs coming together to sing their final songs, and members of Silver Lining, Debbie Hendricks, Lori Tesnow, and Lisa Meek, playing the parts of angels as they join Heidi Reinhard to sing the "Monotone Angels".

Orchestra

The Findlay High School Symphony Orchestra, directed by Mr. David Hanson, began the 1982-83 school year with its annual Pops Concert performance on November 19 in Heminger Auditorium. The 67-member orchestra played various pieces ranging from "Pavanne" from the "American Symphonette No. 2" by Morton Gould to "Chariots of Fire" by Vangelis. "Chariots of Fire" was arranged especially for the orchestra by Scott Lavender, a former FHS student.

Other concerts included the All-City Orchestra Festival and a FHS student body concert.

The most stunning performance by the symphony orchestra was in Columbus at the Ohio Center when they performed for the Ohio Music Education Conference.

The final concert was held May 24. This concert recognized the graduating seniors for the talents and efforts they donated, for as many as three years, to the orchestra.

REHEARSING for concerts was a daily first period ritual for orchestra members. Starting in the upper left corner and moving clockwise across both pages, Todd Scranton's trombone reflects his intensity; Carolyn Kern and Mary Johnson work for perfection; Brian Wilhelm concentrates on the conductor's instructions; and Judy Woodward sits tall as she follows the music being directed by Conductor David Hanson.

Hey Brian Spoon,
What's that you're doing?
Welding?
Welding what?
A metal plate? Oh,
that's interesting.
What's it for?
A class project?
And your training will hopefully lead to a job your senior year,
and maybe one after graduation?
Sounds like you're using your high school time rather well.

Crawling around inside cars can get pretty dirty and greasy
can't it Scott Smith?
But the grease under your nails
is worth it, eh?
Because you'll have a job
after graduation.
And you've learned a skill you really enjoy. Ya know, you're a pretty lucky fellow.

Testing power supply diodes of televisions is just one of the many things you learn in Electronics? You do a lot of experimenting and testing and diagnosing too? And even learn to do some minor repair work? That's quite a bit of valuable knowledge and experience you've gained isn't it Keith Bird?

We're carpenters. Proud ones too. For most of us this is the second house we've helped build. And we'll probably build a lot more, now that we've learned how.

One of the most popularly attended events of the year was the Hawaiian Bash hosted by the senior class. All the elements of a good time were provided: music, dancing, food and the chance to visit with friends in Hawaiian fashion. Moving clockwise, Eric Siewert "gets down" with his Hawaiian dance step; Becca Fariss models her elegant "island clothing;" Martha Mahler and Colleen Veit put their heads together for a provocative picture; and Angie Fenton and Mark Clemans take a joyful break from the festivities.

A NUMBER of students enjoyed playing in rock bands. Though it took hard work and dedication, both musicians and listeners alike found it well worth the effort. Mike Bonta and Paul Ramos pictured from the left at the bottom formed a band which entertained students on several occasions. Song and Dance

The Pizzaz dancers, directed by Pam Miles, were a part of Fine Arts Week and also the One Acts. Group dance and solo numbers were performed to several jazz songs. At the bottom, Pam performs a solo from her show.

The Madrigal Singers, under the direction of Lucius Stone also performed during Fine Arts Week and the One Acts. To Pam's right, Madrigal singers Jenny Stone and Jack Logsdon rehearse for the comic relief segment of their show and Lucius along with Anita Kumar, sing a featured duet.

Peer Tutors

Students helping students is the concept behind the peer tutor program. Under the guidance of Mrs. Kathleen Crates, qualified students volunteer their time to tutor those enrolled in special programs. According to Mrs. Crates, students interested in a teaching career obtain a great deal of valuable experience when involved in the program.

In addition to being interested in teaching, it's important that a free period be scheduled for tutoring. Most of the time comes from study halls although some take time from their lunch periods to help.

Pictured from top to bottom, peer tutors Mark Woodard and Karen Benjamin go over material they will be using the next day and Dave Wilhelm gets help from tutor Jim Crates.

Student Council

Student Council kept busy with its usual activities, such as organizing homecoming, while adding some new activities and fund raisers. Some of the new activities included a litter control program, an MTV dance in cooperation with Trojan Television, and a senior citizens lunch program. A sausage and cheese sale was a new fund raiser to help finance Council activities.

Trojan TV

Trojan TV had a successful year video taping school related activities. Many were broadcast over cable channel three. In addition, TTV was featured in an article in The Toledo Blade and in a segment of the Toledo P.M. Magazine show.

Arts Beat

Arts Beat, a magazine featuring the original writing and art work of students and faculty was published three times during the school year by the literary magazine staff, advised by Mrs. Margaret King. Members of the staff put to good use the skills learned in creative writing classes when editing and publishing the magazine.

Drama club is one of the most popular groups at FHS. It consists of students who enjoy participating in the various school plays. The productions staged included Up the Down Staircase directed by Mrs. Judi Griffin, House at Pooh Corner directed by Mrs. Barb Gebhardt, and Damn Yankees directed by Mr. Fredric Wilford and Mrs. Gebhardt. Several one-act plays were directed by members of the directing class and presented during Fine Arts Week. Most drama clubbers could be found in or lurking around room 234. Many members hope to pursue their theatrical careers after graduation. Club adviser was Mrs. Gebhardt.

Jim Dreisbach and Marianne Weber played key roles in the Up the Down Staircase and House at Pooh Corner productions.

Thespians is a group of students active in drama. The highlight of the year was hosting the State Thespian Conference April 29, 30 and May 1. Thespian advisor Mrs. Barb Gebhardt, also a state thespian sponsor, organized the event with the assistance of the FHS Thespians. At the conference, FHS presented Damn Yankees and Kevin Carty, Tristen Hennigs, Steve Elderbrock and Suzan Taylor were presented outstanding performance awards. The directing crew was given a best directing award; and the production also won recognition for outstanding technical direction and costume design. Mike Turnbell and Steve Elderbrock were elected to the state board and Mrs. Gebhardt was reappointed to the state sponsor board.

Forensics competition was a great success. Through a number of different tournaments, the speech and debate team gathered a total of 43 separate awards from October through March. The debate team participated in 15 tournaments in the course of the school year. Highlights included 12 first places with 12 members of the team qualifying for state competition. These team members not only gained state titles but also gave great performances. Topping the season was the debate team's second place finish in the state tournament.

Marianne Weber and Kevin Carty were two successful competitors in the individual events competition during the Forensics season.

Angie Fenton and Phil Rooney, two finalists in the state debate tournament, relax after a demanding practice session in preparation for the tournament.

Forensics is an organization consisting of the debate and speech teams. The debate team traveled throughout the state competing in many tournaments. The Lincoln-Douglas debate style was a new feature during the year, which used a two person debate team instead of the normal four member team.

Individual events combine many creative talents such as original oratory, prose and poetry, duet acting, humorous and dramatic interpretation and extemporaneous speaking. Mr. Dan Matheny served as debate coach and Mrs. Barb Gebhardt coached individual events.

National Honor Society is a very successful organization. The qualifications for membership include a 3.5 grade point average with outstanding achievements in the areas of leadership, service, scholarship, and character. Extracurricular activities are also important.

To be accepted, an application is completed and teachers then rate the applicants on a scale of one to five. After this, a faculty committee makes the final decision on membership. New members are inducted in separate ceremonies during the spring and fall of each school year.

National Honor Society was quite busy with many activities during the year. Money making projects included the selling of carnations and shoestrings. In February, the society sponsored a wheelchair basketball game between the Toledo Marathon Silver Streaks and the Music City Wheelers. Money raised from this event went to assist the handicapped children of Findlay. The group also organized high school students to help tutor elementary pupils. Students went to the schools during their studyhalls and lunch periods. Club advisor was Ms. Cindy Shoupe.

Distributive Educational Clubs of America, DECA, is an organization which provides practical job experience for students who wish to have a job after high school. Mr. Taylor's section of DECA is the group that manages the school book store. Other activities include selling mums at Homecoming, and at Christmas collecting canned food for needy families. The group also attended a state conference. DECA officers were Todd Slicker, president; Jay McDaniel, vice president; Julie Smith, treasurer; and Lynn Prater, historian.

One DECA project is selling mums during homecoming week. Chris Patterson and Mr. John Taylor are pictured sorting the mums for delivery to students. Another DECA activity is operating the student bookstore. Here, Jenny Fell examines a Trojan jersey as DECA salespersons Sue Ward, Pat Mains and Lisa Woodward try to convince her to make a purchase.

Distributive Education is a program designed to teach students the fundamentals of retail, wholesale, and service-selling businesses. DECA students spend half of the day working in an approved distributive industry. These students devote an average minimum of fifteen hours per week gaining on-the-job experience. Findlay area businesses assist by supplying appropriate jobs in a supervised atmosphere. Cooperating businesses range from food service and food distribution to the banking and clothing industries.

VICA had a busy year with its members doing many things to boost the pride of its organization. Vocational Industrial Clubs of America (VICA) helps its members form qualities of leadership as well as develop knowledge required for job success. Beginning in the fall, the Northwest Ohio VICA leaders and queen were chosen. They were Karin Smith, queen, and Rob Breitigam, president. These trade and industry students have acquired skills that will enable them to enter employment without further preparation. VICA students work in the T and I wing.

VICA students were involved in many activities during the 1982-83 school year. They participated in the homecoming parade and celebrated National Vocational Education week, February 6-12, by painting windows in the downtown area. The organization also sponsored a coffee for the teachers so they could ask questions about the group. On February 9, a Skills Olympics was held which enabled students to participate in contests, films, and demonstrations relating to the VICA organization.

Among the various departments in which the VICA students work in the Trades and Industry wing are machine and auto shops. At the left, Brian Mitchell works on a lathe in machine shop while Brent Badertscher does some repair work in auto shop.

The VICA organization takes an active part in Homecoming activities as many departments build floats for the annual parade. Members of the cosmetology class pose on their float before the parade begins.

IOE (Intensive Office Education) is a program consisting of four different courses. Secretarial Administration is open to all juniors and seniors who have completed Typing I. Students enrolled in this two year program will learn skills necessary to secure a job in the Secretarial fields. The Accounting and Computer Specialist program focuses mainly on accounting and data processing. Students learn how to operate various office machines.

Campus Life has grown greatly in popularity. An increasing number of students have found this organization offers benefits applicable to everyday living. It is a group that helps the teenager with social and spiritual needs he or she might have. Meetings are held every Monday night at students' homes. Topics discussed at the meetings include such things as friendships, cults, and drugs. Many activities were sponsored by the group this year. These included speaker Ken Davis, roller skating parties, a ski trip and spring break retreat to Florida.

Debra Prichard and Scott Zimber enjoy one of the many Campus Life skating parties. Comedian Ken Davis was the featured speaker at a Campus Life assembly.

Media club volunteers give up study halls to assist in the library and media center. These workers help to free the librarian and other personnel from routine tasks so they may spend more time helping the students. The workers in the media center check books in and out, organize vertical file materials, shelve books, file magazines, and pick up and deliver audio-visual materials as well as assist teachers and students in their use. Advisors for the media volunteers are Mrs. Vicki Hardesty and Mrs. Debbie DeIuliis.

Office Runners provide a great service to students as well as to the administration. They donate their study hall time to such tasks as stuffing mailboxes, addressing envelopes and distributing attendance reports. These responsible students can be counted on to assist counselors in revising schedules, maintaining records, and delivering messages. Office runners also assist in answering phones and taking messages. These students demonstrate not only their dependability but also a willingness to serve.

Winning

We all understand winning. We've built a great nation around the individual will to win. To get ahead and stay ahead. At work or play, we all compete. We want to win.

Whirlpool Corporation is no different. We compete to win. But a company's will to win is no stronger than the collective spirit of individuals... the results produced no better than combined individual effort. Our will must be strong enough...our results good enough... to compete with the best. We believe they are.

Together we will continue to make and sell appliances second to none in quality and value. Because we want to win. Because winners get to keep competing... and losers don't.

Pride of Achievement

"The pacesetter in plastic drainage products and technology," Hancor, Incorporated, Findlay, Ohio salutes the Findlay High School Trojans.

We at Hancor recognize and appreciate the satisfaction that comes from a thing well done . . . like producing a successful drainage product, for example.

It's that same pride of achievement we see in athletic competition and academic endeavors at Findlay High School. We wish you continued success at combining talent, dedication and most of all, Trojan pride into a winning team.

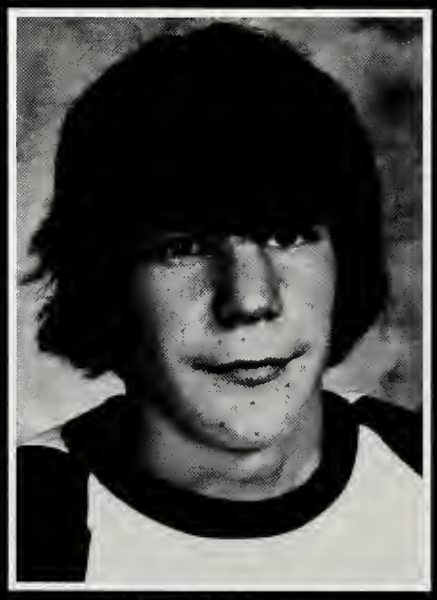
Pam Hill



Randy Peterson

The subject of death is rarely an easy one to deal with, and it becomes especially difficult when it concerns the death of a young person. Death is a generally forbidden topic in our society; most people avoid the "inconvenience" of being reminded of their own mortality by ignoring it.

However, many students at FHS were forced into first-hand contact with death when fellow students Pam Hill and Randy Peterson passed away.

Death, especially when it strikes so close, is a sobering experience. Most of us manage to meander through life blithely ignoring the more unpleasant aspects of existence, until they come sailing out of the blue and knock us flat.

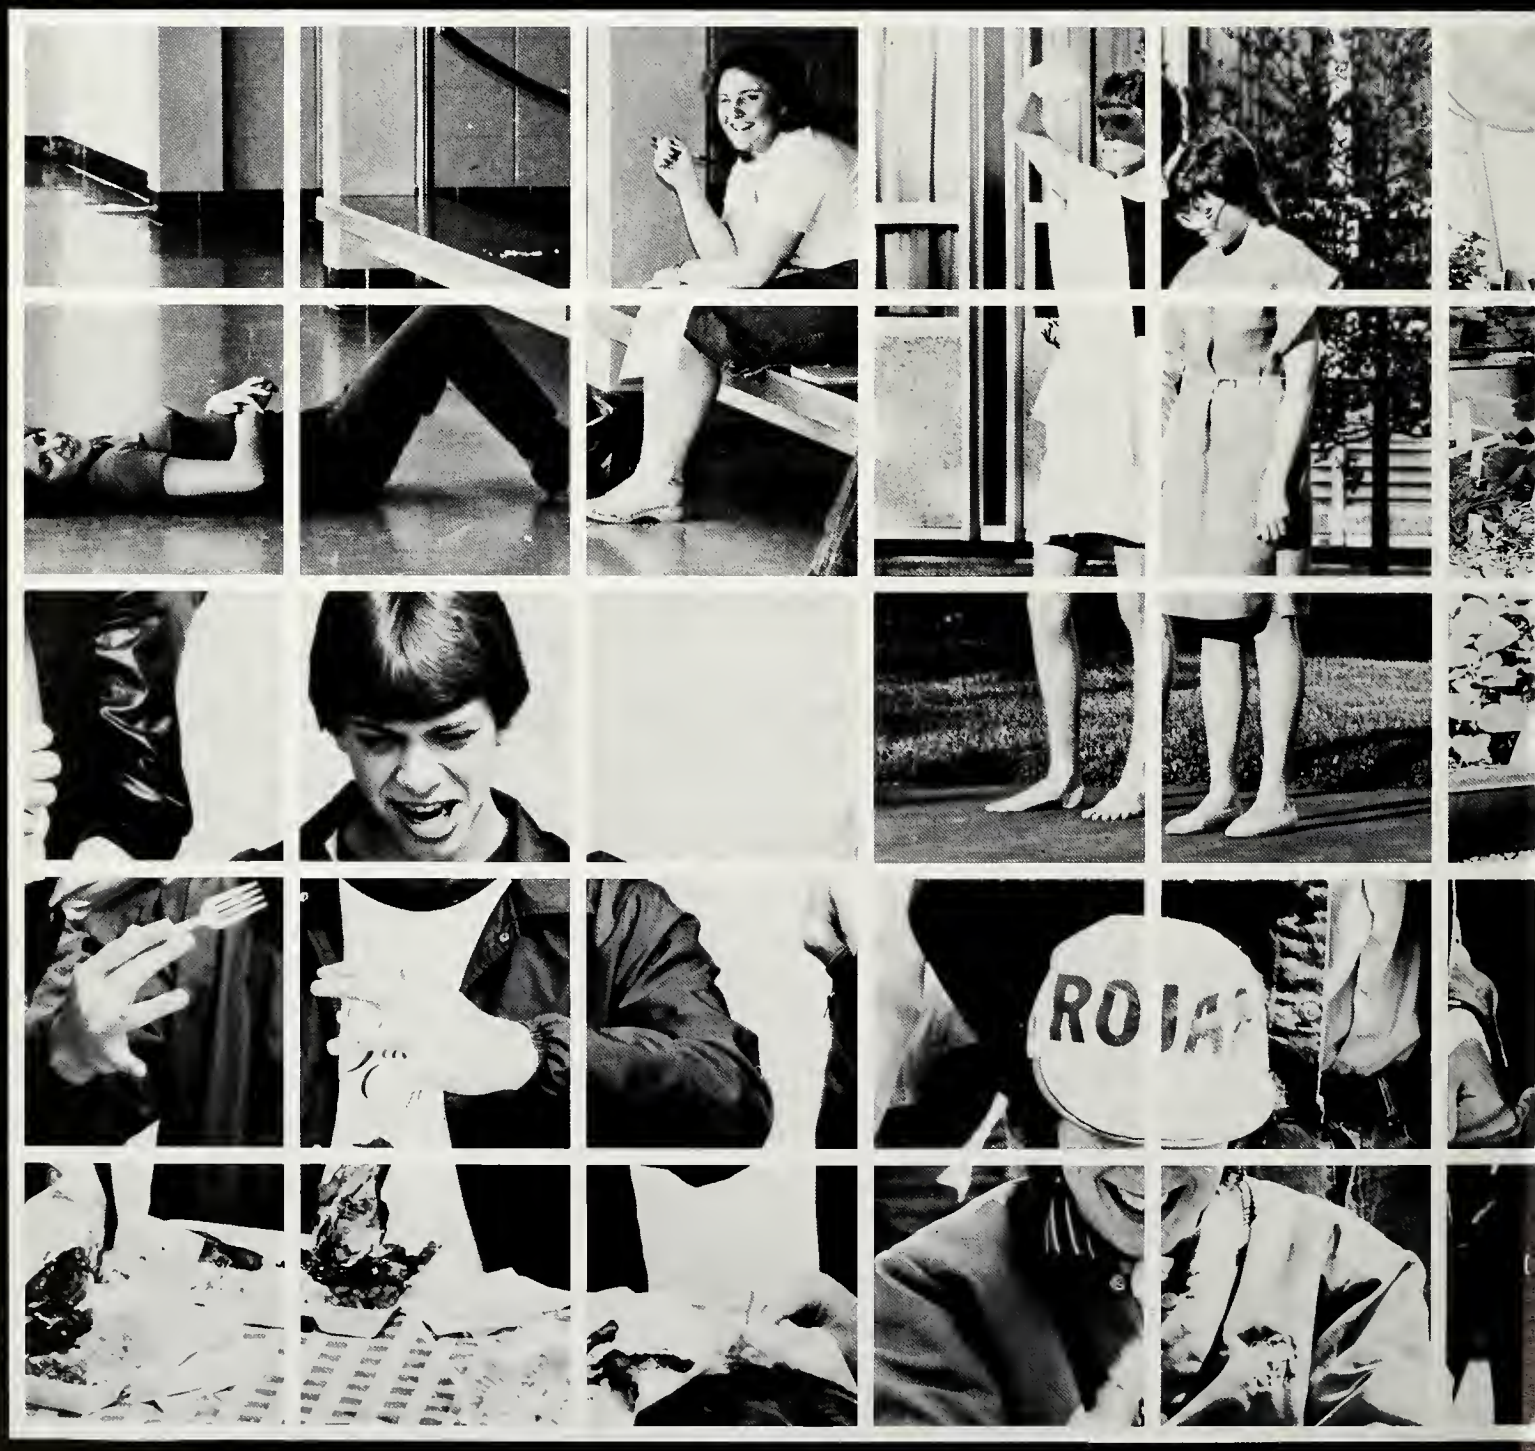
Everyone has his or her own unique thoughts about death, but nearly all of us share the same basic feelings of sorrow, anger, even rage, at its unfairness, and helplessness at our inadequacy in preventing it.

Death also provides us with a rather uncomfortable opportunity for self-examination. It makes us painfully aware of the fact that our life on this earth is brief at best and can easily be ended without ceremony or warning. The sting of death brings us unflinchingly face to face with our human frailties and shortcomings.

But death has another, more positive side. It is death that makes us appreciate life, our times of sorrow which make happiness all the more valuable. There are few people who can go through a brush with death and not emerge as stronger individuals more aware of the life going on around them and within them.

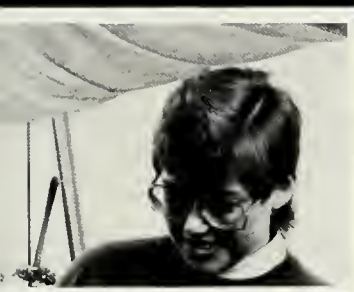
Dealing with death is a difficult thing to do, but perhaps by thinking about it as part of life we can make the job a little easier, a little less painful, and maybe even a little more meaningful. — Darlene Lebens

FHS students were full of life and movement this year with everyone finding plenty of things to do to keep their days busy. Extra-curricular activities such as track, drill team, and drama club were enough to keep all students on their toes. Time to unwind came at one of FHS' most successful dances in history, The Hawaiian Bash, which was sponsored by the senior class council. Another student favorite was the potter's olympics, held every spring. Time could be found during the day to catch up on homework, while the nights allowed students time to just sit by the fire and relax. Their lives, although they may not have realized it, were centered around FHS, and it played a major role in their activities. School life, with its extra-curricular events, helped mold and shape students to eventually take on new challenges in their lives.



ROIA

This school year proved to be a busy one for students at FHS. Activities such as Latin club's Roman slave auction, the Trojan hat sale, the planting of flowers by the Biology I classes, and the unforgettable Hawaiian bash kept us active throughout the year. All of the work done by people did not go unnoticed, though. Howard Wymer rewarded the student body with a western style barbeque that was greatly appreciated by not only the students but also local senior citizens. Although the year was full, there still seemed to be time for relaxing and reminiscing with friends over the fun times shared. We will never forget these years at FHS, for they will undoubtedly be some of the best years of our lives.



From the Editor:

Page 248 . . . the final page and a welcomed relief by all Trojan staff members who dedicated many long hours filled with frustration, confusion, and often times sheer madness, in order to present a book of memories to the student body. Sadly enough, however, we realized that we could not capture all the fun and friends; however, we hope we have compiled enough of the events of 1983 that, when looking through this yearbook whether it be in the next month or in 20 years, it will spark your memory, and then you may fill in your fondest memories where we have left off.

On this final page, I want to applaud all who contributed to the success of this yearbook.

Perhaps most deserving of recognition are all the students who, from within our small yearbook abode, completed an enormous task. And they are: seniors, Kathleen Cassidy, Cindy Reza, Sonja Stechschulte and Brad Tombaugh; juniors, Anne Anderson, Jim Arnold, Marie Bacho, Maribeth Cassidy, Andrea Cross, Cohan Dierksheide, Karen Kroetz, Monte Schaefer, Laura Short, Carolyn Verplatse, Angela Weber and Heather Weisman; and sophomores, Patti Ewald, Lisa Holmes, Elizabeth Ladd, Chad McClellan, Robin McCrary, Amy Neff, Lisa Martin, Kelly Sankey, Doug Small, Amy Smith, and John Steffen.

One student who joined our staff late in the year, and in fact did most of his work after school was out, was Troy Litten. For drawing all of the artwork in this yearbook and helping out at the very last minute, in the summer heat, we owe Troy a special thanks and our sincerest hope that he will continue to share his talents in the 1984 yearbook.

In addition, I would also like to thank the faculty and administration for all their understanding during our emergencies that always occurred at inopportune times.

Deserving more thanks than can be expressed on this page is our Taylor representative, Bob Hastings. Mr. Hastings, inspired us on "Ads Day," helped correct all our mistakes, and gave us all his creative energies to help give this yearbook a distinction all its own.

And last, but certainly not least, my sincerest thanks goes to Mr. Todd Gratz. He is the best advisor for which a staff could hope. He put up with poor grammar, bad croppings and unfinished quad-paks, all for "our" book, often times with no returned gratitude. Thanks again for your undying support, advice, time and dedication. — Maria Langevin
